

SENT TO REFORMATORY

They Had Been Talking About Meeting Blind Dave Weikert in Woods and Taking his Money.

At the September Argument Court before President Judge S. McC. Swope and Associate Judges George H. Trost and C. D. Smith on Monday morning the following business was transacted:

The cases of Com. vs. Leo Claybaugh and Charles Cassatt, charged with the robbery of blind Dave Weikert's store at Round Top was heard. The boys had pleaded guilty. District Attorney Neely called as witnesses Paul and Frank Twomey who testified that the day before they had heard Claybaugh and Cassatt say they would like to meet the old man in the woods, meaning Weikert, and take his money from him. The Claybaugh boy is a son of the man who is serving sentence in the Eastern Penitentiary for forgery and who made a daring escape from jail here and broke his leg in a fall from the jail wall. The boy is 15 years of age and the Cassatt boy is 18 years old. Before passing sentence Judge Swope stated that he had made inquiry about the boys and had concluded that it would be best both for the boys and the community that they be sent to the Reformatory and both boys were committed to the Huntingdon Reformatory for such period as the Managers of the same should find necessary to keep them.

The Gettysburg Transit Company was sold on last Wednesday afternoon by the trustee named in the mortgage, securing an issue of $100,000 of bond.

Adams County S. S. Convention.

The Adams County Sunday School Convention which met in Arendtsville Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 14 and 15, was unusually well attended. More than one hundred delegates and visitors were in attendance, all of whom were most delightfully entertained in the hospitable homes of the Arendtsville citizens. Miss Lily Dougherty furnished the COMPILER with following report of the work of the convention:

The convention met in the Lutheran Church, Rev. D. T. Koser, pastor. All the sessions were well attended. At both evening sessions the church was crowded to its utmost capacity.

One of the most helpful and inspiring features of the convention was the splendid singing. Mr. I. L. Taylor of Gettysburg, had charge of the music and with a local choir of fifty voices, led the singing, which was a real inspiration to the entire audience.

At the business session on Tuesday afternoon the various reports of the different officers showed that an increased interest is being taken all over the county in the Sunday School work. The report of the Statistical Secretary showing a total enrolled membership of 12,187.

Practical Sunday School Methods was the keynote of the convention, special emphasis being given this year to the new movement known as the "Organized Bible Class." Mr. Karl of Harrisburg, teacher of an adult Bible class of one hundred and fifty men, addressed the convention on the subject, "Getting and Holding Men," giving many of the methods used in his class for the bringing of men into the Sunday School and keeping them interested and at work.

On Tuesday evening Rev. Ott of Gettysburg, gave a very interesting and helpful address on "The Teacher's Mission and Reward," and Rev. Forscht of Abbottstown, spoke on "Personal Work as a Factor in Sunday School Success."

Mr. W. D. Reel, one of the State Workers, was present during the entire convention and held conferences on many subjects and with his wide experience gave much useful advice along all lines of work.

Miss Coates, another State Worker, brought the cradle roll and primary work before the convention and held conferences on these subjects.

Rev. Mr. Pilgrim of Carlisle, delivered the address on Wednesday evening. His subject, "A Call to Service," was particularly appropriate and his address made an impression on all present not soon to be forgotten.

Other helpful addresses were delivered during the day by Rev. Sherrick of Gettysburg, and Rev. Stanley Billheimer of York Springs, on other lines of practical work in the Sunday School.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Rev. J. J. Hill, Littlestown; Vice President, Rev. Hesson, Arendtsville; Treasurer, Mr. H. T. Weaver, Gettysburg; Corresponding Secretary, Lily Dougherty, Gettysburg; Recording Secretary, Carrie Miller, Gettysburg; Superintendent of Home Department, Rev. Chas. Dalzel, Fairfield; Superintendent of Organized Adult Bible Class Work, Mr. C. S. Reaser, Gettysburg; Superintendent of Teachers' Training Class, Prof. Sanders, Gettysburg; Superintendent of Primary Work, Mrs. Eva Meckley, East Berlin.

Rev. Chas. Dalzel was elected delegate to the State Convention which will meet at Harrisburg, October 13, 14 and 15. The county is entitled to 20 delegates. Any other person desiring to attend the convention and pay their own expenses can receive their credentials by sending their name and address to the Corresponding Secretary, Miss Lily Dougherty. A number of names have already been handed in and we will no doubt have a full representation at the State Convention.

The convention will meet next year in the Lutheran Church at Abbottstown.

Opening of College.

Gettysburg College opened on last Thursday with ninety new students. There was one addition to the Junior class, ten to the Sophomore class and the Freshman class numbers seventy-nine with prospects of several additions. The opening of college was marked by several new features that have caught on. Instead of the usual rough class rush which often turned into a rough and tumble fight, the Freshman class was initiated with a tug of war and a tie up on Nixon Field on last Saturday afternoon. In the tug of war the ten best men of each class got at either end of a rope with the result of a score of 3 to 0 for the Sophomores. In the tie up each man was provided with two ropes and it was his business to tie up a member of the other class hand and foot and carry him back of the goal posts. When time was called the score stood 88 to 21 in favor of the Sophomores.

The prospects are bright for a strong football team. Coach Vail was on the ground before the opening of college and the old members of the team came early and began to practice. It may be questionable whether the team will have had practice enough to make a good showing in the game on Saturday with the University of Pennsylvania, but the team is expected to give a good account of itself before end of season.

$5000 Legacy to Seminary

Charles Smyser Weiser of York whose death was reported in our last issue, left a will probated last week giving $5000 to Lutheran Institutions. Applicants from the West Pennsylvania Lutheran Synod are to be given preference.

The Board of Foreign Missions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church receives $1000 for the support of a village preacher in India. The Home Mission Board of the same denomination is given $1000, while the York Benevolent Society receives a similar amount toward furnishing fuel and fire for the poor.

AT MEETING OF MERCHANTS

BARGAIN DAY OR DAYS OR WEEK PROPOSED TO BE HELD

Reading Railroad Gives Early Train to Gettysburg in Morning and Regular Sunday Train.

Notice having been sent out of important business for consideration there was a larger turn out than usual of the merchants at the meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association on last Friday evening.

A communication was read from Edson J. Week, General Passenger Agent of the Reading Railroad in reply to letter from the special Committee having charge of the matter, giving assurances that when the fall time table is made up, that an early train will be included from Harrisburg to Gettysburg. Mr. Mauger, the Assistant Passenger agent visited Gettysburg last week and he also indicated that the train leaving Harrisburg after 8 o'clock in the morning, would be changed to 7.15, shortly after the arrival of the train from Philadelphia and that would put the first train into Gettysburg shortly after 9 o'clock.

It was further indicated by Mr. Mauger that the Sunday train into and out of Gettysburg would be continued during the winter. Inquiry was made as to the best time for the first train out of Gettysburg in the morning during the winter. To catch the first train at Harrisburg for Philadelphia the time would have to remain near six o'clock while the second train could be caught by train leaving Gettysburg at 8 o'clock. Mr. Mauger was told by the Committee of Citizens that an 8 o'clock train would more likely suit the conveniences of the traveling public out of this place and this seemed to be the sentiment of the Merchants on Friday evening.

The committee further reported that Mr. Mauger had said that Gettysburg ought to protect the travelers coming here from annoyances from hackmen at the depot and from boys with souvenirs at the same point. Travelers have reported being surrounded and followed for squares and the annoyance reached such an extent that it seemed like a breach of the peace.

The Merchants' Association realizing the importance to protect the good name of Gettysburg, so as to encourage instead of discouraging the travel of the public to this point were unanimous that the protection of the traveler should be a matter gone into by the Association and a motion that a committee on Transportation and Traffic be appointed carried, and the matter of better regulations will be taken up by this committee.

The important matter of the evening was presented by H. T. Weaver, who suggested that the merchants of the association should at an early date have a general bargain day, or days, or a week. That other towns have had undertakings along this line. The merchants would join in offering special bargains during the occasion, no two merchants in the same line offering the same bargains, and that the event should be extensively advertised in the papers, and by circulars in every part of county and territory trading at Gettysburg. The suggestion was approved of by all the merchants present, and it was decided that the matter be made a special order of the evening at the meeting on Friday evening, September 24, and full attendance of our merchants being desired on that date.

After a discussion of the rules on advertising mediums, it was decided by a unanimous vote that the rules did not apply to the college publications, Gettysburgian, Mercury, Spectrum, Y. M. C. A. Hand Book, and Lecture Course announcements, nor to Prof. Roth's publication, School Bulletin, Institute and Lecture course, and School Directors program. A motion carried for a special advertising committee, to whom all matters of special advertising schemes will be referred under the rules of the association.

October 1st was fixed as the date for return of delinquent creditors of the merchants. After that date a delinquent list will be made up for the use of all the members of the association of those who live in town or neighborhood who are unworthy of credit at the stores of this town.

It was decided to accept the invitation of the water company to hold future meetings at their office in the Square, and meeting on next Friday evening will be held at that point.

Inaugurated as Professor.

On last Thursday evening in Christ Lutheran church occurred the inauguration services of Rev. Jacob A. Clutz, D. D., as Professor of Practical Theology in the Theological Seminary of this place. The services were opened by an organ prelude by Prof. Harold Lewars. After singing hymn 302, "Lord of the Church," the invocation was offered and Scripture lesson read by Rev. Dr. A. S. Hartman, followed by Prayer by Rev. A. R. Steck, D. D., Hymn 814 "O Word of God Incarnate" was sung followed by the taking of Oath of Office. Dr. E. D. Weigle, Pres. of Board of Directors delivered the charge to Dr. Clutz, taking as his subject "The Teaching Function of the Christian Ministry." Prof. J. A. Clutz, D. D., as the subject of his inaugural address spoke on "The Essentials of Pulpit Power" and said that the four essentials of success in the preaching of the gospel were: 1. An assured conviction of the truth of the message as drawn from the Holy Scriptures, which are the word of God. 2. A profound sense of the importance of this message as God's message of love and salvation to a world that needs it most desperately and must perish without it. 3. A deep and abiding sense of mission or of divine call. 4. The presence and power of the Holy Scripture.

The services terminated with a solo by the daughter of the new professor—Miss Ruth Clutz, and the benediction.

House Burns to Ground.

The house on farm of Amos Weikert in Cumberland township burned to the ground early on last Tuesday morning. The house is located along the Emmitsburg road, about one-fourth of a mile north of McCurdy's school house, near top of the hill. The house had been vacant for some time but on day before Amos Weikert and his son Charles took several wagon loads of their household goods from Gettysburg, where they had been living, to the farm, to which they proposed to remove. The greater part of their goods had been moved and Mr. Weikert and his son decided to remain in the house over night and look after their property. About three o'clock in the morning they were awakened by smoke in their room and discovered the house on fire. The fire had started in the back building and Mr. Weikert and a neighbor say they detected the odor of oil and believe the house was deliberately set on fire. Mr. Weikert and son had some trouble to escape and fire had gained such headway that it was found impossible to save any of the household goods moved into the building and all were consumed with the dwelling. The insurance on property is $250 and the contents $150, but loss will be greatly in excess of these sums.

Narrow Escape.

Daniel Skelly of the firm of Skelly & Warner had a fortunate escape from what might have been a serious accident on Sunday afternoon. He was on his bicycle coming down the avenue from the Weikert store at Round Top toward Devil's Den. He had the brake tight on his wheel and had passed a number of conveyances and when close to the last one lifted one hand from the handle bar, which resulted in a swerve of his machine, throwing him and in the fall he struck the left side of his face on the conveyance. A call to the driver brought vehicle to a standstill preventing his leg from being run over and likely crushed. Mr. Skelly has a very badly bruised face and is able to be at his store.

DEMOCRATIC DECLARATION

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Principles of Party Put in Brief
Form Will be Heartily Supported.

A number of the most prominent Democrats of New York State met at Saratoga, the first week in September, to formulate a declaration of principles, upon which all Democrats could unite and bring about a better state of affairs in the Democratic party of New York State. Over five hundred of the best men of the party in that state, voluntarily attended at their own expense, and almost a week was consumed in discussing the declaration of principles. When the work was finished, it was said that a more selfless and a more patriotic body of Democrats had not assembled since the early 'thirties days, and the declaration unanimously adopted is one to which every citizen interested in the establishment of Democratic principles can give hearty support.

The Democrats assembled in conference at Saratoga, September 8 and 10, 1908, announce the following as their understanding of certain essential Democratic principles and policies.

A strict construction of constitution, both State and Federal, that the rights of the States and the people respectively may be preserved.

Loyal support of the Federal Government in the exercise of all its constitutional powers, eternal vigilance in watching and detecting and vigorous and persistent opposition to any and all extensions of Federal power that trench upon those reserved to the States or to the people.

Enforcement of the laws by State and Federal authorities against criminal combinations and trusts in restraint of trade.

A tariff for revenue only; no Government subsidy and no special interests, either directly or through protective tariff.

Equal and uniform taxation; taking no more money from the people than the just needs of government economically administered requires.

The abandonment at the earliest moment practicable of our imperialistic venture in the Philippine Islands, first safeguarding their independence by sufficient guarantees.

Steady adherence to the principle of home rule and local self-government by the State and each of its political subdivisions.

Rigid economy in Government expenditures.

Election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

Reform in our registration and in enrollment laws, so that personal registration and enrollment shall be required in every political subdivision of the State. Reform in our methods of election so that each elective officer shall be the separate, deliberate and intelligent selection of the voters of the State.

Reform in our methods of nominating candidates for public office so that nominating conventions shall be composed of representatives directly chosen by the members of the party.

Reform in our primary laws so as to give to every citizen greater direct influence in naming candidates for office and surrounding the primaries with such safeguards as will insure their honesty and providing the necessary time and legal machinery to insure the choice of a majority of the voters being respected and enforced in convention and committee.

No interference with the personal liberty of any citizen except such as is essential to secure the equal rights of all citizens.

Taxation of corporations by the States alone.

A constitutional amendment authorizing the levy of a Federal income tax.

Aerial Navigation.

"More progress has been made on aeroplanes" during the last year in France and America than was made upon automobiles during five years succeeding their introduction," was the pith of a remarkable statement by a Philadelphian upon his return home after reviewing the Rheims display of flying machines, where he was one of the judges.

He said that he considered that the French are now leading the world in the science of aviation, and he expects to see that nation make the most rapid development in the future toward the perfection of the aeroplane. He gave as his reason for this belief the fact that in France there is such a large number of wealthy sportsmen, who are enthusiastic in the development of any agency that makes for sport. Frenchmen, he said, regard aerial navigation as the ideal pastime of sportsmen.

"I firmly believe," he continued "that within the next decade the aeroplane will be perfected to the point where it will be practical and in common use.

Scrofula

Few are entirely free from it. It may develop so slowly as to cause little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.

It may then produce dyspepsia, catarrh, and marked tendency to consumption, before causing eruptions, sores or swellings.

To get entirely rid of it take the great blood-purifier, mon use. In the aeroplane as it is now built there are, so far as I can see, only two serious hindrances, which I expect to see overcome in a short time. These hindrances pertain to the rising and alighting of the machines, and to the uncertainty of the equilibrium during their flight.

"The reason for the aeroplanes of today not being able to start against a strong wind is that they can not rise with certainty. They have difficulty in getting clear of the ground if the wind exceeds one-quarter of the maximum velocity of the machine, because in rising against a strong breeze there is danger of the machine being upset by a puff before it gathers headway. But once clear of the ground they can easily negotiate a wind that is equal to half their speed.

"So the chief weakness of the aeroplane today, as I see it, is its lack of power to control its equilibrium. If this weakness is overcome, not only can the machines clear the ground with certainty in a strong wind, but there will be no danger of capsizing while in flight.

"At the present time the equilibrium is maintained in the air by the efforts of the pilot operating a series of levers, and the correct manipulation of these levers, depend absolutely upon the presence of mind of aviator, so that, when the pilot loses his head, as was the case recently in a trial flight in Europe, the result is fatal.

"To overcome this weakness some method will be adopted whereby the equilibrium of the aeroplane will be maintained by an automatic control, leaving the pilot free to guide the machine, and this will relieve the mind of the terrific mental strain to which he is now subjected to keep his machine on a level keel.

"This automatic control of the equilibrium will make it easy, too, for the machine to be brought safely to the ground. There is considerable danger now in alighting in a strong wind, because the only effective way to come to the earth is for the machine to be brought head to the wind, but to do this there is hazard of its upsetting in the manoeuvre.

"The principal aviators of the world are now directing their experiments toward correcting these weaknesses, and I think the next year will see vast strides made in this direction, and when some plan is perfected, whereby the aeroplane will maintain its equilibrium automatically, and alight with safety, the machine will be a practical working force in our life. In a few years I look to see them as common as automobiles are at the present time."

Care Needed in Sending Samples.

Specimens of insects, and of plants attacked by pests and fungus diseases, that are sent to State Zoologist Surface, Harrisburg, for examination and report, should be packed with care, so that the same will arrive in good condition.

Recently some clover leaves infested with plant lice reached the Professor in bad shape, and the instructions that he gave to the person who sent them will be useful for others to observe who contemplate sending specimens for the obtaining of information. The letter follows:

"I have received the leaves of young clover and the plant lice which you send to us with the interesting statement that the bees are at present gathering honey dew from these. Unfortunately the material was too much dried and broken when it arrived to enable us to determine anything concerning the species of the Aphids, and I should like very much to receive some in better condition. I, therefore, enclose three two-cent stamps and ask if you will kindly mail me some more of the clover containing the plant lice; and, especially, if you can find any with wings, these should be enclosed. Please put them in something like a tin baking powder can with a tightly-fitting lid. The specimens will then keep fresh without letting them be crushed, and when they reach us we can make a proper study of them."

ALL OUT OF SORTS

Has Any Gettysburg Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts?
Tired, Blue, Irritable, Nervous?
Back feel lame and achy?
That's the story of sick kidneys—
Bad blood circulating about:
Uric acid poisoning the body.
Just one way to feel right again.
Cure the sluggish kidneys:
Do it with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Doan's have cured many Gettysburg people.

Here's one case.
Mrs. Anna Matthews, 44 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "It would be hard to describe the misery I endured from kidney disease, in fact it really seemed as if I had all the symptoms of this malady. My back ached severely and the pains were so intense at times as to make me feel miserable. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and gave me much annoyance. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at The People's Drug Store and used them according to directions. My back grew stronger in a short time, the kidney secretions were regulated and I felt better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

(STOMACH) (LIVER) (LUNGS)

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Governors of Pennsylvania

JAMES POLLOCK—1855-1858.

James Pollock was born in 1810 at Milton. He received a splendid education and after graduating at Princeton prepared himself for the practice of the law. He represented the Thirtieth district in congress from 1844 to 1850 and in 1850 was appointed president judge of the Eighth judicial district. He was elected governor of the commonwealth in 1854 and declined a nomination for a second term. It was during his administration that the panic of 1857 occurred. Governor Pollock called a special session of the legislature. Upon his recommendation laws were passed legalizing the suspension by the banks of specie payment. This relieved the situation, and a financial calamity was avoided. It was at his suggestion that the words "In God We Trust" were placed upon our coinage. He was naval officer of Philadelphia from 1880 to 1884, after which he resumed the practice of law until his death, April 20, 1890.

MONEY IN WEEDS.

Children Could Be Taught to Find and Market.

This country is actually importing for medicinal purposes plants that are growing wild all around us, but which no one seems to think it worth while to gather. This fact is pointed out by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin called "Weeds Used as Medicine," which it would be worth while for the boy who reads this to write for if he wants to make a little money out of the vacant ground all around him. The bulletin will explain how to prepare the weeds for the market and will give some idea of the price that the industrious boy can expect to obtain for the weeds that are marketable.

Belgium and other European countries ship to this part of the world every year about 50,000 pounds of burdock root. The root sells for from three to eight cents a pound and the seeds for from five to ten cents. This will probably be news to most of those diligent workers who have been weeding out the burdock from thousands of farms and carefully consigning it to the flames, while the more thrifty Europeans have been selling it to us in consignments that come more than three thousands miles to a country that abounds in it.

Who has not wondered at the sight of Italians digging for dandelions. The country boy knows that dandelion greens are not bad for the table, but what few but the astute alien are wise to is that druggists derive part of their income from the sale of dandelion as a tonic and that from four to six cents a pound can be obtained from the root that flourishes everywhere ready for the picking.

Instead of gathering the dock root that goes to waste all around us, the American nation pays for the importation of 125,000 pounds of this plant every year. The dried root sells at from two to eight cents a pound and is considered an excellent blood medicine. The waste lands are alive with it and any boy could make money by gathering and preparing it for the market.

A quarter of a million pounds of dog grass, a remedy for kidney troubles, comes to this country annually from abroad. Is it because we cannot grow dog grass in America? No, but because for some reason this unthrifty nation imports it instead of pulling it up and preparing it from the places where it grows all around us. It brings from three to seven cents a pound. Here's a chance for the boy who finds the long vacation begin to pall upon him to show he is as industrious as his competitor in the old world.

Then there is pokeweed, a skin and blood remedy, the dried roots of which sell for from two to five cents a pound; mullein, which is a nerve tonic and a cough medicine, and which sells for good prices, but is not thought to be salable by the boys of this country (German boys know better—they sell it for importation to America); lobelia seeds, which sell for fifteen cents a pound, and catnip, which can be exchanged for pocket money at the rate of from two to eight cents a pound.

These are only a few of the many weeds that are salable, but which we allow to go to waste in this country, while we buy the identical thing from abroad. It will open the eyes as well as line the pockets of our boys to get the bulletin referred to and make money out of that obnoxious job of weeding.

THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

A Model Freight and Express Car.

A car which has recently been completed in the shops of the Hanover & McSherrystown Street Railway Co. for a freight and express service is a model of its class. The general construction of this car was patterned after those in use on the middle western traction lines, where the development of this business has reached the highest stage.

The car body is 30 feet long by 8 feet wide and 8 feet high. The underframing is solid steel, with only enough wood to nail the floor, making an exceptionally rigid and stiff car.

There are 2 4-foot doors, one at each end on opposite sides, and two small windows on each side, protected inside by iron bars. The color of the body is the railway company's standard green with cream trimmings, making a very attractive car.

The car is mounted on Brill's latest single trucks, with long wheel bars for easy riding and is further braced on the ends. It is equipped with two West motors of 40 h. p. each giving this car 80 h. p. ample for this severe service. This car was completely built in the shops of the railway company with the exception of the trucks and the motors. It was designed by Robert E. Manley, general manager of the company, and built under the direction of LeRoy Stokes, master mechanic. The car will be used between Hanover and McSherrystown, Littlestown and other points according to the demands of the road.

The September Musician.

The Musician (Boston, Mass.) for September contains a number of strong features in view of the teaching season just commencing. The most important is a Symposium on "Success in Music Teaching," consisting of experiences from a number of successful teachers: an analysis of Mendelssohn's Rondo Capriccioso in E Minor, Opus 14, by Wm. H. Sherwood, the distinguished American pianist; "Why Musical Theory Should not be Neglected" by Jaroslav de Zielinski; an account of the Gamut Club of Los Angeles, a flourishing organization of musicians. A number of short articles on practical topics suitable to the beginning of the teaching season supplement the more important articles. Added to this are the usual special departments for Singers, Violinists, Organists, Teachers and Children. The music section contains seven pieces for the piano, and two songs by American and European composers. The compositions are all of attractive quality and medium difficulty.

Question of Pavements

The borough authorities have served notice on a large number of our citizens, to repair and make new pavements. Attention has been called in the Compiler, to a number of pavements in a deplorable condition, and there is no question that a number of new pavements should be made.

In a recent walk in the heart of the town, only two pavements in a distance of almost two squares, could be found that did not need a remaking. The dry season has prevented the evidence of a scene of puddles, which many pavements will present as soon as the rains come.

There is a question whether the Town Council has taken the best methods to secure and encourage the building of new pavements. It has been our opinion that our people are entitled to more consideration than the ordinances permit, namely that a councilman can look at a pavement, and then report the same, and escape all unpleasantness by having the Secretary serve a formal legal notice, which puts the citizens on record as one who is not maintaining good pavements. Why cant councilmen adopt a better method when bad pavements are located? Why could not members of the council visit the citizens on the quiet, and suggest new pavements, and make it plain that the suggestion is made to avoid a record, and a formal notice. The assertion is ventured that many citizens would make promises which would be kept, which would give more new pavements than any strictly legal method will bring.

Another way for our town authorities to encourage the building of new pavements, would be to make an example. As long as the town maintains four of the worst pavements in the town, in the four corners of the square, it comes with poor grace to tell others to quit maintaining what the town is maintaining upon the most public thoroughfare. Let the town begin on its own pavements. Let them lead the way for cement pavements in the square. Let them go to the property owners in the square, and agree that the borough will put down cement pavements in the first two corners, where the property owners agree to put down similar pavements upon such portions as fall upon them to make. The remaining two corners could wait until next year. Two corners could be built for a total of about $600. Why not build them?

The County Commissioners have made a contract with Charles E. Lady for a cement pavement at the Court House on Baltimore and Middle Streets. Work will probably start this week and when completed it will be one of the best of public improvements and one that is greatly needed.

Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of Washington Camp No. 414, Patriotic Order Sons of America, held Thursday evening, Sept. 16th, 1909, the following resolutions were passed on the death of Norman Bumbaugh:

Whereas an allwise Providence has permitted the hand of death to remove from our Camp our beloved brother, Norman Bumbaugh, and

Whereas, Camp No. 414 P. O. S. of A. in this little tribute of loving remembrance desire to express appropriate regard and esteem for him as one of our number, and the loss we deplore in his death, be it therefore Resolved, That in his death our Camp has lost a member who was always interested in the success of the Camp.

Stave Plant to be Built.

Senator William A. Martin while in Franklin County last week purchased a stave mill from John Lenher which he will add to his saw mill equipment in this county. It is Senator Martin's purpose to begin the erection at once of a building near his saw mill and equip it with the latest machinery for the making of staves for kegs. The second growth chestnut is the best kind of wood for the purpose and Senator Martin has over one thousand acres of second growth chestnut which is in the best of condition for his purposes and which will furnish all the timber needed for the stave mill for many years to come.

Simple Cure For Pimples

There is only one way to obtain a clear transparent and flawless complexion: massage treatment makes the flesh flabby, the so-called beauty creams containing oily or other greasy substances, fill up the pores of the skin preventing them from doing their work properly, and also induce the growth of a fine fuzzy hair on the face. If you would have a face entirely free from Pimples, Blistches, Eczema, Black heads and kindred diseases of the skin get the following prescription put up at any reliable Drug Store and your troubles will soon be over. Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces. Mix, shake well and apply to the face night and morning, allowing it to remain at least ten minutes, the longer the quicker results you will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily.

The filmy powder deposits on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use soap, instead wash the face with oat meal and a little powdered orris root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

Has Some Friend Told You of Foods Shot from Guns?

Folks who eat Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are sorry for those who don't.

So they tell of these foods to others, and the others tell others. That's how the use is spread.

Please ask some housewife to tell you how her folks enjoy these foods.

Or try them yourself. One package of Puffed Wheat, at a cost of ten cents, will reveal a new delight.

Puffed Wheat—10c

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, and this is his curious process:

The whole wheat or-rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes in a heat of 550 degrees.

That fierce heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes tremendous.

New State Roads.

W. B. Johnson of Spring Forge, has the contract for the building of the new State road in Conowago and Union townships. He was the lowest bidder for both roads. While separate bids were asked for the roads in the two townships, yet the roads will form one continuous road on the most direct route between McSherrytown and Gettysburg. The route in Conowago township is from the Littlestown pike near McSherrytown through Branstown to the township line at the bridge over Conowago Creek. The Union township line is from the same bridge to the Mount Pleasant township line. The bids of W. B. Johnson are the lowest bids so far made for the building of State roads in this county and approximate about $11,000 a mile. The bid for the Conowago township end of the road of 7925 feet, about 1 1/2 miles, was $17,384.08 and for the Union township end of 6025 feet, about 1 1/6 mile, was $13,833.08. Of the amount required for building of the road one-eighth will fall on the county and one-eighth on the township.

It is said the Government has under contemplation a road in Mt. Pleasant township to the Cavalry field and when built there would be but several miles between the Government road and the new State roads to be built, and it will make the best route between Gettysburg and Hanover.

The bid for the Conowago township end of the road of 7925 feet, about 1 1/2 miles, was $17,384.08 and for the Union township end of 6025 feet, about 1 1/6 mile, was $13,833.08. Of the amount required for building of the road one-eighth will fall on the county and one-eighth on the township.

FIGHT AGAINST INSECT PEST

INCREASED BY INDIFFERENCE OF TOWN PEOPLE TO PESTS.

Infesting Their Yards, Bushes, Trees, Etc.—Vast Majority Do Not Have a Care.

A prominent citizen of an interior city of Pennsylvania wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, in reference to the neglected condition of trees, shrubbery and plants in town yards and lots, and the case which he cites in his letter is similar to thousands of others. His letter is in part as follows:—

"I have become considerably disturbed in regard to the woeful loss of knowledge and attention shown by the people of our city with special reference to the San Jose Scale and kindred pests. Within ten days I have examined trees, roses and vines in my immediate neighborhood, at the request of the owners, and found that the most virulent cases of infestation imaginable: trees half dead, rose bushes scorched, currant bushes being turned out, and shrubbery in the last stages of existence, without any effort whatever being made to save them, or remove the cause, principally through total ignorance as to the identity of the cause, or lack of knowledge as to what remedy to apply.

"I think you will agree with me when I venture the opinion that the San Jose Scale is a great deal more prevalent in cities and towns than in the outlying localities, due possibly to the close proximity of the plantings, diversity of plants, and the ever present agency for its spread, the English sparrow, and it is sure to get to country orchards through the different methods of transportation by which it is usually carried.

"It appears to me to be highly important that something be done and some method adopted to exterminate it at the chief seat of its existence, and I need not enter into any extended presentation of facts as to why, as you with your most excellent knowledge of the subject, and extended experience, will readily see how low-growing shrubbery, such as is characteristic of city property, may be more thoroughly handled with remedies than others, while at the same time it removes the chief seat from which to carry the pest throughout the country.

"In spite of the wide dissemination of information and public discussion on the subject of the various scale insects and their destruction, I am very much surprised, and more or less indignant, at the neglect and inexcusable indifference manifested by at least 99 out of every 100 people, who should have a care, and a deep feeling of interest, in these matters, but who, it seems, never think to investigate and inquire until they see the dead branches or limbs staring them in the face, or lack of vigor arouses their suspicions; in fact, I have not discovered one person in a hundred who can distinguish San Jose Scale from a bed bug, so far as giving it the right identification is concerned."

Prof. Surface, in reply, confirmed these statements, saying they apply fully to almost every city and borough in eastern and southern Pennsylvania, and this is just why he is sending competent inspectors to find the scale pest, in order that he can notify owners when it is present and what to do for it.

Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulents. They operate easily, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

One Was Enough.
The British Academy once had printed a few copies of an important work for presentation to some foreigners who, from their prominence in the scientific world, were best entitled to be honored with the gift. Professor Airy, the astronomer royal, was requested to make a selection of the names. A few days after he had sent in his list he was informed by the secretary of the admiralty that "my lords" were struck by the number of unknown names included and that they wished to make an inquiry on the subject. Airy asked the secretary for some specifications as to the names referred to.

"Well, as an example," said the secretary, "here is the name of Professor C. L. Gauss of Göttingen. Who is he?"
"Gauss is one of the greatest mathematicians of the age and stands among the two or three most eminent masters in physical astronomy now living. Who else do you wish to know about?"
"No one else. That will do," replied the secretary.

What Man Owes to Birds.
"It should be realized," said a naturalist, "that without birds to hold in check the insects vegetable life soon would cease and life for man would become impossible upon the earth. Birds are nature's check to the amazing power of insects to increase. If insect life were allowed free course it would soon overpower plant life, and therefore animal life, including that of man, would be impossible. This is an astounding conclusion, but it is the conclusion of science. If the birds were gone very soon the leaves would disappear from the trees, and the limbs would be festooned with the webs of caterpillars or with masses of their nests. These would move from tree to tree, increasing by the million as they advanced. In the course of a few seasons there would be no trees. In the fields of our species of insects would destroy the grass and the grain and all vegetable life, and the ground would be as if a sea of devouring mouths had passed over it."

Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, it is necessary that the consent

THEIR NEW JUNE.

It Came With the Reunion After Both Had Suffered.

By MARIE SYLVESTRE.

Copyright, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

Katherine Denton was a not unusual product of a workaday great city, yet was she an exception to her sisters. In years she was twenty-two when Dwight Sanborn first knew her,
and, added to physical attractiveness, was an indefinable something that reminded you of Dresden china or delicately, delicate silks—something alien to a strident, jostling world of dollars and cents.

Miss Denton was a stenographer in the law office where young Sanborn worked after graduation from the law school and where he subsequently earned a junior partnership. In the first days of apprenticeship to the law he remembered more of Browning than of Blackstone and quoted the philosopher Kant to the neglect of the legal text.

It was similarity in tastes that first brought the young people closer than stenographer and employer. Sanborn was dictating a petition to be filed in an action for breach of promise, and his levity evidenced his distaste of the task.

Flippantly he quoted from Mrs.
Browning's immortal sonnet, which the incautious defendant had incorporated in a letter destined to be an exhibit in the case:

"I love thee with a love I seemed to lose With my past years; I love thee with the breath, smiles—"

The rest escaped him.

"Smiles!" he repeated, in an effort to remember, when Miss Denton interrupted:

"Smiles, tears of all my life, and if God chooses
I shall but love thee better after death."

The repetition was impersonal, of course, and the young lawyer let escape him the repressed tenderness of the tones which told of sympathy with the heart that gave the sentiment of the world and more than that for a man who could inspire it.

Sanborn laughed, thanked her for completing the quotation and finished outlining the petition. Afterward he remembered, and a day or two later a daintily bound volume of the Portuguese sonnets reached Miss Denton's desk with Sanborn's card. That was the beginning.

Love came quickly to both of them, and scarcely a year elapsed until Katherine Denton was Katherine Sanborn.
Courtship days were dreams of accomplishment and development of higher ideals they believed they wanted to realize.

But, while the woman loved and lived and dreamed, the man deteriorated to the typically masculine. He became brilliant in manipulation of the law's intricacies and was made a regularly retained counsel to a number of immense and important corporations. His days at the office were filled with the law, and the evenings at home felt the dominating influence of ambition's passion.

Instead of the dreams of sweetheart days everything was subordinated to the quest for legal success. And to Katherine came the thought that even in his profession ideals had been dethroned and new gods set up for adoration and devotion, for Sanborn was at his best when piloting a corporation craft through mazes that baffled the intent of the statutes.

"I'm losing the man I married," she cried to herself in the solitude of neglected wifehood. "He's slipping, slipping, and I cannot prevent it, cannot hold him."

With disillusionment came unrest, with unrest rebellion. To the woman it seemed that all that life held worth while was being taken from her. She was exiled as the wife of a brilliant man, one destined to acquire great wealth, but these were not desirable to her.

"Sometimes I'm not quite happy," she told him flatteringly one night when he remarked her apparent illness.

"Nonsense, little girl! We're getting along famously," he told her.

"You are," she answered dully.

"Well, it's for us both," was his reply, but it did not satisfy.

For three years she endured it, and because there were only the two of them life grew lonelier and lonelier until in a moment of desperate aberration she told him she was leaving and left a note bidding him not to seek her.

At first she was in doubt where to turn. She had a little money and felt sure she could secure a position as stenographer and that a few weeks would enable her to reach her old time haunts in the country. The sudden departure of Sanborn would not affect her in the least.

She thought of her mother and her sister, of her friends, of her own private life, of her own distress apparently. A fortnight after her departure she was a student nurse in a private sanitarium under the direction of a kindly old physician who had known and loved the girl since her earliest days in New York. Wisdom had come to him with years, and he knew that a few months of the seclusion she sought would bring clearer vision.

At the first shock Sanborn was nigh to insanity. That his Katherine was discontented he had not believed. Yet in her note he saw what they had missed because of his money madness.
Right—she was a million times right, he told himself bitterly, and could he find her again they would begin to gather at the start and, please God so this time a right. But search was unavailing.

Then came the breakdown, complete,
